Published by the City of Knoxville's Office of Neighborhoods to report news important to Knoxville's residential neighborhoods. Deadline for news & calendar items: 9 a.m. Friday

1. Neighborhood Watch Celebrates First Birthday

The Eastport/Lee Williams Neighborhood Watch will celebrate its first birthday at high noon on Wednesday, Nov. 19, at the Dr. Lee Williams Senior Center, 2240 Martin Luther King, Jr. Avenue.

Cake and ice cream, oldies music, disco decorations, party favors and special guests will be featured, according to Sylvia Cook, the watch coordinator who is very proud of the fact that the group is celebrating this milestone.

2. Former Gang Members to Tell Their Stories

Why do young people join gangs? Why do they stay? For those able to escape, how did they do it?

Former gang members will address these questions at the Knoxville United Peace March and Rally to be held tomorrow – Saturday, November 15 – in East Knoxville.

The march will start at 1 p.m. at the Family Justice Center, 400 Harriet Tubman Street; proceed down Martin Luther King Jr. Avenue, and end at Eternal Life Harvest Center in Five Points, a distance of about one-half mile. This will be followed by the rally featuring several former gang members.

Among the other speakers is Former Mayor and current City Councilmember Daniel Brown, one of the organizers of the event. Other organizers include Dewey Roberts; Lawrence Williams of World United Ministries, Pastor James Davis of Eternal Life Harvest Center; and community activist Maurice Clark.

Supporting organizations include Overcoming Believers Church, Mount Calvary Baptist Church, Honey Rock Church and Vine Middle School.

"I used to be out there (on the street)," Williams recalled. "If it wasn't for God and people encouraging me, I might have been locked up or would have not made it past 21. We have to show them (young people) that we love them and support them. No, we do not support some of their activities, but we do not have to tear them down because of mistakes they've made. We need to show them we support them."

“This is important,” Mayor Brown noted, “because people are fed up with the violence that has been happening in our community. It’s a symbolic opportunity to say to the community that we are trying to come together to do something about gang issues.”

3. Chapman Neighborhoods Collaborate on Dogwood Trail

Members of the Lake Forest and Colonial Village neighborhood associations, along with other interested folks, will be out in force this Saturday, Nov. 15, getting ready for spring.

They will be working to spruce up the Chapman Highway Dogwood Trail in preparation for next year’s Dogwood Arts Festival.

Peggy Tubbs and Molly Gilbert, co-chairs of the Chapman trail, in conjunction with the city's Urban Forester, Kasey Krouse, have organized the cleanup and beautification event in the two neighborhoods.

Participants are invited to gather at the Lake Forest Presbyterian Church, 714 Lake Forest at 9:30 a.m. to receive work assignments. Crews will be planting dogwoods, azaleas, pansies, tulips, and other assorted plants in the two neighborhoods.

Kasey Krouse will coordinate and help oversee the project and its plantings. He will also provide onsite demonstration in proper planting, pruning, and maintenance.

"It's been wonderful to have so many partners interested in beautifying South Knoxville," noted Molly Gilbert. "At a recent Dogwood Trail meeting, Lisa Duncan, director of the Dogwood Arts Festival, commended everyone, saying our collaborative efforts were a model for other trails."

One of the work sites will be a new marble sign entrance to the Lake Forest neighborhood.

Colonial Village Neighborhood Association will also have a litter pickup following the planting. Crews are to meet about 1:00 pm at the South Knoxville Church of God on Magazine Road. There will be a dumpster located at Gary Underwood Park on Moore Road for the collection of trash.

4. Mechanicsville Community Takes on a Paint Job

Members of Mechanicsville Community Association waited a long time for the owner of a small grocery store in their neighborhood to paint the exterior of his building, and they finally decided to take matters into their own hands.

Al’s Market, located at the corner of West Fifth and University Avenues, sits one of the entrances into the neighborhood, but it’s peeling paint and partially finished paint job made this entrance... less than appealing.

So the group approached the store manager, who readily agreed to allow MCA to paint the building. In return, MCA will be able to paint “Welcome to Mechanicsville” on the side of the building. With help from community member Leroy Watts, the building was painted before cold weather set in, and now the only remaining task is to paint on the welcome sign.

Meanwhile, at a recent meeting, MCA elected David Gillette as the group's vice-president, replacing outgoing VP Shirley Kellogg. Other officers are Charles Wright, president; Rita McKinnon, secretary; Eugene Bailey, treasurer; and Christine Winton, calendar coordinator.

5. Show off Your Neighborhood at The Neighborhood Conference

Both city and county neighborhood organizations are invited to show off their neighborhoods at The Neighborhood Conference to be held Saturday, March 7, at the Knoxville Convention Center.

Two popular features of the 2013 conference will be repeated in 2015 (the conference is held every other year).

First, neighborhood organizations are encouraged to begin gathering photographs of neighborhood events over the last two years. In early January, we will ask groups to submit digital images, which will be compiled into a slide show that will be displayed at the conference.

So begin assembling your photographs now!

Second, as was the case in 2013, there will be a contest for the best neighborhood tee shirt among both city and county neighborhoods. Celebrity judges will pick the winners, and prizes will be awarded.

If you don't already have a tee shirt for your neighborhood organization, begin now to come up with a design that reflects the values of your community. If you need advice on how to proceed, contact Debbie Sharp in the Office of Neighborhoods, 215-4382, or dsharp@cityofknoxville.org.

If you would like to volunteer to serve on the Neighborhood Tee Shirt Contest or Neighborhood Photo Committees, please call Debbie or fill out our volunteer form at https://www.surveymonkey.com/s/Knox\_Volunteer.
