The Honorable Madeline Rogero, Mayor
Knoxville City Council
David B. Rausch, Chief of Police

Dear Mayor Rogero, Council Members and Chief Rausch:

Enclosed is the 2017 annual report of the Police Advisory and Review Committee (PARC) prepared in accordance with the City of Knoxville Ordinance Number 0-194-01 adopting the Police Advisory and Review Committee (PARC or the Committee) approved May 29, 2001.

On May 9th, 2016, Mr. Clarence Vaughn III was hired from among eight highly qualified candidates as the new PARC Executive Director, replacing Ms. Avice Reid who served over eight years in this position prior to being named as the City of Knoxville's Senior Director of Community Relations by Mayor Rogero. After his appointment, Mr. Vaughn completed the Knoxville Police Department (KPD) Citizens Academy, Knox County District Attorney's Inaugural Citizen's Academy, Federal Bureau of Investigations (FBI) Citizen's Academy, and the Tennessee Bureau of Investigations (TBI) Citizen's Academy. Mr. Vaughn and his Administrative Assistant Ms. Lisa Chambers continue to capably serve PARC and the community to improve relationships between the KPD and the citizens of Knoxville. Mr. Vaughn has also spearheaded updating the PARC website and increasing the committee's presence and outreach on social media.

In 2017, PARC received 88 cases, an increase of one case from the previous year. PARC closed a total of 86 cases which included two cases pending from 2016. Of the closed cases, 50 were resolved by Executive Director, 4 were resolved through mediation by the Executive Director and KPD, 13 Referrals to Appropriate Agencies and 19 were resolved by KPD. Despite the ongoing turmoil surrounding citizen/police divisiveness in many US cities, the similarities in case numbers from 2016 suggest that the Knoxville community has faith that citizen concerns and complaints against KPD are being addressed fairly and comprehensively. Despite this positive outlook, PARC pledges to maintain its vigilance in resolving issues and complaints to improve upon the relationship between KPD and the community it serves.

The Executive Director, with the encouragement of the Committee, has been proactive in participating and seeking out meetings with citizens outside of the PARC office to promote the program, discuss concerns, complaints, and to develop plans for successful resolutions. He makes himself available to accompany citizens to the KPD Internal Affairs Unit to file formal complaints and discuss related issues when the resident does not trust the process or is ill at ease and unsure of the process. The Executive Director also encourages mediation between citizens and the police to resolve issues including understanding of laws; perceptions of professional behavior; lack of communication; and words or actions that are perceived as threatening, rude or disrespectful. Additionally, he continues to assist individual citizens and neighborhood groups in resolving their complaints by working with police officers and KPD Units to effectuate a plan to concentrate on current neighborhood and individual concerns.

In 2017, the Executive Director continued his service on the Knoxville Police Department's Training Committee as an avenue for citizen input on future training projects as well as to continue to update KPD's recruit and in-service training programs. All newly appointed PARC committee members participated in the KPD Citizens Academy thereby all current PARC committee member have successfully graduated from the KPD Citizens Academy.

In 2015, PARC began offering short training presentations by KPD staff, police trainers and technical personnel at the quarterly meetings. These sessions were continued in 2017 to further educate the citizenry and committee members on KPD and police operations in general. Based on the audience participation and the number of questions posed after each presentation, these short training sessions are well received and serve to increase meeting turnout by citizens seeking a better understanding of police operations.

This continued focus on training of KPD officers, committee members and the citizens of Knoxville clearly reflects a commitment by the Executive Director for continuous improvement in PARC's ability to effectively fulfill its mission. In addition to his and the Committee's commitment to training, the Executive Director met monthly with the East Tennessee Civil Rights Working Group, a networking group of community leaders, civil rights advocates, law enforcement agencies and concerned citizens who work together to help detect and prevent hate crimes and civil rights violations. The Executive Director serves on the planning committee for the National Association of Civilian Oversight for Law Enforcement, which hosted its 23rd Annual Conference in Spokane, Washington.

Throughout the year, the Committee and the Executive Director strived to improve coordination and communication with the Internal Affairs Unit and senior staff of the KPD. KPD's participation in quarterly PARC meetings coupled with their willingness to answer questions and meet with citizens because of issues brought up at the meetings continues to be excellent. PARC subcommittees monitor cases wherein racial profiling may be involved as well as the utilization and effectiveness of KPD audio/video equipment, case referrals and trends in complaints. The Executive Director meets with KPD's Internal Affairs staff regularly to view video and audio tapes, discuss concerns and to get clarification on specific cases.

PARC's quarterly meetings in 2017 have been held in various sectors of the city as follows: Arnstein Jewish Community Center; City County Building, Wesley House Community Center, and at the Knox County Education Association. Citizen attendance and participation has been good and the dialogue between the Committee, citizens and KPD has been helpful and beneficial to all participants. PARC has been very fortunate and blessed to have the continued support of community leaders and citizens who attend the quarterly meetings. Many of these regular attendees conduct their own recruitment efforts, for which PARC is very appreciative.

On a final note, please be assured that PARC strives to ensure that its procedures, operations and communications are always courteous, respectful and in full compliance with the Tennessee Open Records Act, as well as other statutes and ordinances. As always, the Committee welcomes any input from the Mayor, City Council, Knoxville Police Department and the citizens of Knoxville. Any concerns or issues raised will be addressed and responded to in a timely manner. Attached to this letter is a comparative report of matters addressed by PARC and its Executive Director for the years 2016 and 2017.

Sincerely,

Rosa Mar, Chairperson
Police Advisory and Review Committee

Since its creation, PARC has continued to champion citizen concerns and address issues in a timely manner. Over the past year we were able to work closely with PARC committee members and community leaders in voicing citizen concerns and improving relationships with the Knoxville Police Department.

By focusing on areas that involve allegations of misconduct and improper behaviors of the Knoxville Police Department, PARC remains committed to its primary goal of enhancing citizen awareness and involvement in issues that impact their neighborhoods and communities.

PARC continues to host quarterly meetings to ensure that citizens of Knoxville and local areas are provided a platform to openly discuss key concerns. In addition, PARC is very thankful for the training sessions provided by the Knoxville Police Department during our quarterly meetings. The training sessions are geared towards discussions related to public safety, investigative practices and community involvement.

In the coming year, PARC plans to remain heavily involved in community-led groups and organizations that are geared towards the betterment of the City of Knoxville. Civilian Oversight provides community members and law enforcement with effective ways to enhance transparency and review best practices in maintaining a welcoming environment for all citizens.

As Executive Director of the Police Advisory Review Committee, I would like to thank Mayor Madeline Rogero, City Council and the Community for their continued support and involvement.

Respectfully,

The Committee may then request the Law Director to provide outside counsel to the Committee. In addition, where the Executive Director excuses himself from participating in the review of a complaint pursuant to § 2-1104(d)(3), the Committee may petition the Mayor to appointment a temporary assistant to perform the duties of the Executive Director.

1. concerning any incident occurring prior to September 22, 1998;
 2. prior to the closure of any IAU or criminal investigation;
