The City of Knoxville's Purchasing Department held its first Disadvantaged Business Enterprise (DBE) Awards Ceremony on Wednesday, Sept. 14, to recognize small, women-owned and minority-owned businesses for outstanding performance, as well as City departments committed to reaching out to DBEs with procurement contracts.

Last fiscal year, 38.7 percent of the City's total competitive expenditures – $31.4 million – went to small businesses.

"Small businesses are critical in driving our local economy, and it's great to recognize some of the owners who are taking the lead in advancing the City's core goals while creating jobs and serving the community," Mayor Madeline Rogero said.

"We wanted to acknowledge the outstanding creativity and achievements of women and minority-owned businesses, as well as the City departments that are setting the example by reaching out to them with City procurement contracts."

The honorees are:

K & W Cleaning Service—Rising Star Award
Quantum Environmental & Engineering Services—Above & Beyond Award
Eight Lane Consultants—Above and Beyond Award
B & B Lawn Services, Inc.—Minority-Owned Business Award
Scientific Sales, Inc.—Woman-Owned Business of the Year Award
ExpoQuip, Inc.—Small Business of the Year Award
Johnson & Galyon, Inc. & First Place Finish—Partnership Award
